

TRUCE NOW
IS IN EFFECTHuerta Willing to End Warfare.

MEDIATORS BEGIN TASK

Hostilities Between Rebels and Federals May Continue.

Washington, May 1.—It was announced here that Huerta has agreed to a cessation of hostilities pending the mediation proceedings. No details were given by the mediators. Huerta's consent applies merely to hostilities between himself and the United States, not between the federals and the Constitutionalists.

The United States already has indicated its intention to discontinue any hostilities while the mediation is on.

Having received Carranza's acceptance of the mediation proposal the representatives of the three South American governments entered upon the delicate task of bringing about a suspension of hostilities between Huerta and the Constitutionalists.

Official Washington will await the developments of the next few days with anxiety.

Note Carefully Worded.

It is acknowledged that Carranza seems to be the most doubtful factor in the situation. Although he has accepted the principle of mediation the fact has not escaped officials here that his note was carefully worded so as to commit him only to a settlement in this way of the difficulties between the United States and Mexico. There is nothing on the surface of his note which indicates that he will consent to any compromise with Huerta.

In the case of Huerta, however, there is a feeling that he will be willing to consent to a broadening of the mediation proceedings so as to include Mexico's internal differences. This belief is based chiefly on the fact that Huerta is being hard pressed by the Constitutionalists and undoubtedly will be glad to accept any means consistent with maintaining his own dignity to escape from a more complete disaster.

Admiral Mayo reported that a sharp engagement between the two forces took place at Tampico and that the federals were supposed to have suffered considerable losses. In the fighting an oil barge and a pier of the Water-Pierce Oil company was burned and there were other blazes.

Orders to Naval Officers.

That the United States is doing all it properly can to bring about a cessation of the fighting between the factions in Mexico was indicated when Admiral Mayo was instructed to call the attention of the Constitutionalists at Tampico to Carranza's acceptance of the principle of mediation and similar orders went to United States naval officers on the Pacific coast.

Carranza is likely to ask for the evacuation of Vera Cruz by the United States and to insist on the retirement of Huerta and the turning over of the government of Mexico to the Constitutionalists. With these conflicting demands on subjects so fundamental experienced diplomats here find it difficult to view the present outlook with optimism.

Officials in Washington were at a loss to explain the statement attributed to Huerta's minister of war that the United States cruiser Raleigh had bombarded Manzanillo, on the west coast of Mexico. Admiral Howard, commander of the Pacific fleet, denied the report and the question raised in Washington now is whether it was thrown out in Mexico City to stir up anti-American sentiment.

HALBERT WILL MAKE RACE

Minnesota Progressives Nominate
Him for Governor.

Minneapolis, May 1.—Hugh T. Halbert of St. Paul will be the Bull Moose candidate for governor. This was decided at a meeting of the Roosevelt followers in the West hotel. Mr. Halbert was the only man mentioned for the place and his choice was unanimous. He was in Chicago when the nomination was made and the following telegram was sent him:

"At a meeting of the committee appointed for that purpose you were unanimously chosen to file as candidate for governor for the Progressive party."

AMMUNITION TURNED BACK

Shipment to Rebels is Seized at Galveston.

Galveston, Tex., May 1.—One million rounds of small arm ammunition, consigned to the Constitutionalists along the northern border of Mexico, has been stopped here and will be returned to the manufacturers.

League Gathers in Front of Oil Officials' Residences.

New York, May 1.—Threats of violence were made against John D. Rockefeller, Jr., by demonstrators said to have been aroused by his alleged policy in the Colorado mine war.

One woman attempted to invade his office and when she was prevented she withdrew with imprecations, repeating in a speech outside threats she had made within the building of personal harm that would come to him.

While Upton Sinclair, Miss Elizabeth Freeman, an English militant suffragette, and Mrs. Bonnie Lietner, pioneers in the Free Silence league movement, were being sent to the Tombs prison for picketing other picketers wearing crepe on their sleeves began pacing the sidewalk in front of 26 Broadway, where Mr. Rockefeller has his offices.

Mr. Rockefeller issued a statement characterizing as "infamous" any allusion to conditions in Colorado as "Rockefeller's war."

A demonstration was held in front of the West Forty-fourth street residences of John D. Rockefeller and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., by men who claimed to represent the Anti-Military league of New York. They walked back and forth carrying placards bearing an inscription:

"Thou shalt not kill either in Mexico or Colorado. If you want to fight join the cause of labor against capitalism and help us and the Colorado mine workers, who are being ruthlessly slaughtered."

FILES FOR SUPREME BENCH

Judge P. W. Morrison Enters Minnesota Contest.

St. Paul, May 1.—P. W. Morrison of Norwood, judge of the district court in the Eighth district, filed with Secretary of State Schmale as a candidate for associate justice of the supreme court on the nonpartisan ticket.

Judge Morrison is serving his second term on the district bench. His present term does not expire until Jan. 1, 1917. If defeated for the supreme court he will not have to retire to private life unless he resigns his present position in order to make the race.

Judge Morrison is the fourth to file for the one vacancy on the supreme bench, the others being Judge Albert Johnson of Red Wing, Judge William Watts of Crookston and Alva R. Hunt, a Litchfield attorney.

The only supreme court justice whose term expires next January is George L. Bunn of St. Paul. He has not as yet filed for renomination but it is believed he will get into the race.

CEREMONY IN BLUE ROOM

Wilson-McAdoo Wedding Occurs Next Thursday.

Washington, May 1.—When Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the president and Mrs. Wilson, and William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, are married next Thursday the ceremony will be performed in the blue room of the White House.

As the guest list has been limited to members of the two families, the cabinet and the vice president the White House decided not to use the large east room which was the scene of the wedding last November of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre.

President Cleveland was married in the blue room, the central parlor of the three which connect the east room and the state dining rooms.

The room, notable as the scene of many historic events, is hung in heavy corded blue silk and is handsomely furnished in white, blue and gold.

LAUDS WATCHFUL WAITING

Joseph E. Davies Says Wilson Will Teach World a Lesson.

Madison, Wis., May 1.—"I don't believe there is a man in the United States who, sitting in the White House under all the embarrassing developments, could have averted war as President Wilson did," said Joseph E. Davies, commissioner of corporations.

"If this question is settled he will teach the South American republics and the world the greatest lessons in diplomacy since the drafting of the Monroe doctrine," he added.

Davies conferred with Assemblyman D. D. Conway of Grand Rapids, who is believed to be a candidate for the internal revenue collectorship left vacant by the death of H. H. Manson.

CARRANZA IS SAID
TO OPPOSE TRUCERebel Commander Orders an Attack on Tampico.

El Paso, Tex., May 1.—While General Carranza has not replied officially to the proposition of the South American mediators for a federalist armistice his answer is said by officials here to be plainly forecast in orders promulgated for a concentrated attack on Tampico.

The federal gunboats and the land defenses of Tampico have proved too great for the troops of Generals Caballero and Gonzales and orders were issued for the mobilization of 12,000 troops from the state of Coahuila, Tamaulipas and Nuevo Leon.

WILL RECALL MILITIAMEN

Regulars to Be Substituted for Texas
Guards.

Washington, May 1.—Secretary Garrison is preparing to substitute regulars for the Texas state troops stationed at Brownsville. Heavy demands made upon the mobile army by the border patrol and the Vera Cruz expedition probably will make it necessary to draw the force from the coast artillery.

The secretary suggested to Governor Colquhoun the impracticability of the federal and state forces seeking to operate in the same territory under different commands.

MOVE TO DISSOLVE COLONY

Single Taxers Allege Fairhope Settlement
Has Failed.

Mobile, Ala., May 1.—A bill was filed here in chancery court by single taxers seeking dissolution of the Fairhope colony in Baldwin county, the principal experiment of the single tax theory in the United States.

The bill alleges that the corporation has failed "because the single tax theory never can be carried out in any jurisdiction whose laws deny the essentials of that theory."

SENATOR MARTINE AROUSED

Would Prohibit Employment of Armed Guards.

Washington, May 1.—Urging it was high time for the senate to take steps to stop the "monstrous proposition of Colorado mine operators arming thugs to shoot men, women and children like dogs in a kennel," Senator Martine of New Jersey addressed the senate in favor of immediate action on his bill to make it a criminal offense to employ armed guards.

Senator Martine introduced the bill after the investigation into the recent West Virginia coal strike at Paint and Cabin creeks.

He said to the senate that "armed brutes" employed as mine guards were responsible for the setting aside of constitutional government in West Virginia and even worse consequences in Colorado.

PREDICT STRIFE
FOR MANY YEARSForecasts as to Time It Will Take to Pacify Mexico.

SOME FAVOR ANNEXATION.

Others Say Troops Must Remain In
That Country For Twenty-five Years.
Legislation May Be Shaped That Will Look Toward Taking Over New Territory.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 1.—[Special.]—The hesitancy with which many men acted in regard to sending armed forces into Mexico was largely because they did not see just when we could get out of that country.

Predictions are made that we may close up the thing in a year, and from that the estimates range to twenty-five years. There are some who believe that we will never retire from Mexico, while others assert that we will take control of that country as a result of the present troubles. Enthusiastic individuals assert that we will annex every foot of land from the Rio Grande to the Panama canal in order to carry out our "manifest destiny," as these individuals put it.

I heard a prominent man of the house, one of the earnest supporters of President Wilson, assert that the necessity for expansion on the part of the American republic made it necessary that we should take over Mexico as a result of intervention in Mexican affairs. Being an influential man in congress, he will try to shape legislation in that direction.

Stopping the Loophole.

Some years ago the house of representatives provided what became known as "calendar Wednesday," which was an opening for the consideration of legislation that could not be brought before the house in any other way. Members have been jealous of calendar Wednesday and have sought to keep it from being taken away from them. But a way has been found to stop this loophole of legislation. That way is to take a long bill, such as the revision of the laws of the United States, and get it once started on calendar Wednesday and keep it there to the exclusion of all other business. It is rather interesting to note that, no matter how careful the majority of members guard their rights, a method is found by which these rights can be hamstringed.

State Rights Involved.

As usual, when the question of state rights is raised on any subject there is a fight at once. Just now a large element in the house of representatives wants to have considered a bill providing how senators may be elected under the new constitutional amendment. This is regarded as an invasion of state rights, and southern members are arrayed against the proposition and have fought against it in order that it may not be considered. It is a rather important measure, and if it is not passed there may be some difficulty about the rights of senators who are elected next fall in states that have not made provision for such elections under the new amendment.

Lewis in the Chair.

The vice president knows how to help things along in the way of contributing to the gayety of nations. Therefore he occasionally calls Senator James Hamilton Lewis to the chair, and the Illinois senator is sure to make an interesting presiding officer. They have a hard and fast rule now which prevents applause in the galleries. Lewis when presiding has a tendency to encourage laughter and applause, which he immediately checks by rapping with his gavel and threatening the galleries, at the same time letting them know if he had his way he would encourage their applause. And no doubt he would, for the Illinois senator believes in manifestations of sentiment.

The "Plain Private."

Richmond Pearson Hobson paid a tribute to the "plain private" which is to become a classic of the second Mexican war. He told what he knew about the sailor who is a plain private in the ranks; of his association with him as a midshipman, when many sailors cheerfully gave up their lives in trying to save others. Then he told of his association with the sailors when he sank the Merrimac at Santiago. He brought tears to the eyes of many a member of the house by his splendid tribute to the men of the United States navy, whom the late Admiral Schley referred to as "the men behind the guns." By many people Hobson is regarded as one of the greatest orators in the country today.

The "Wyoming Geyser."

If you came from Wyoming, had been a member of the house from that state for sixteen or eighteen years, would you think it entirely parliamentary for another member to refer to you as the "Wyoming geyser" simply because Yellowstone park is one corner of Wyoming has geysers? That is what they did to Mondell the other day, but he only grinned. It was in a political debate, and at such times Frank Mondell is really a partisan.

A geyser spouts, and Mondell is not slow in using language, or, rather, he is not afraid to use it for the Republican party.

ART GALLERIES AT FAIR

Addition to Attractions at Minnesota's Annual Exhibition.

St. Paul, May 1.—Five new spacious art galleries for the accommodation of a quarter of a million dollars' worth of art subjects are to be built at the Minnesota state fair grounds this summer, to be ready for the coming fair, Sept. 7-12, according to an announcement of Secretary J. C. Simpson. The Minnesota State Art society is co-operating with the state fair management in the enterprise.

From now on, according to Maurice I. Flagg, director of the State Art society, the annual state art exhibition will be held at the state fair grounds and it is expected to become one of the leading features of the fair. In the future hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of valuable art objects, including pictures by the most noted artists in the United States, and examples of sculpture, industrial art, handicraft and other phases of art, will be placed on exhibit at the Minnesota state fair.

Eccles, W. Va., May 1.—More than fifty bodies of the 172 believed to be buried in mine No. 5 of the New River Collieries company, wrecked by an explosion Tuesday, have been located.

A majority of the bodies are said to be terribly burned.

When the word spread that the rescue parties had found many bodies the whole population of Eccles and hundreds of persons from surrounding towns rushed to the scene.

St. Paul, May 1.—Announcement of the candidacy of James Manahan, congressman at large, for the Republican nomination for attorney general, was made by Mr. Manahan in Washington and also in a telegram received by George S. Loftus of Minneapolis.

Mr. Manahan will make his fight on a platform of anti-trust law enforcement.

REBELS FIRE ON STEAMER

Try to Keep Supplies From Federals at Tampico.

Washington, May 1.—Rear Admiral Mayo at Tampico reported to the navy department that the Ward liner Antilla, flying the Cuban flag, was fired upon and held up in the river there by Constitutionalists, but later steamed into port under cover of fire upon the rebels from the Mexican federal gunboat Vera Cruz.

The helmsman of the Antilla was wounded by the rebel fire and the steamer anchored, sending out wireless "S. O. S." signals. Admiral Mayo sent alongside a boat with his flag-ship Des Moines. Then officers of the foreign men-of-war off the port, headed by Captain Doughty of the British cruiser Hermeine, called upon the Constitutional commander for an explanation of the incident.

The Constitutionalist officers declared that they proposed to prevent any merchant vessels entering Tampico in order to keep supplies and stores from the federals.

Colonel Roosevelt was suffering from boils, but was not seriously affected. All the other members of the expedition were in excellent health.

Colonel Roosevelt, with Kermit Roosevelt and Colonel Rondon, chief of the Brazilian mission, which accompanied the expedition, took up their quarters at the International hotel.

The former president intends to leave immediately for the United States.

Bitter Industrial Conflict Ends.

REGULARS IN CONTROL

State Troops Being Withdrawn
as Fast as Possible.

Denver, May 1.—With United States regulars encamped on the battlefields of Trinidad, Walsenburg and Canon City peace descended upon the strike zone after seven months of bitter industrial war.

Disturbed only by the shrill cries of the sentries, strikers and mine guards, who have clashed, intermittently in Southern Colorado for the ten past days, laid aside their rifles and slumbered beside the blackened ruins of the mine buildings.

Women and children who have trembled and fled from the sounds of rifle fire and the clatter of machine guns once again felt safe to seek their beds.

Thus far the strikers have surrendered no arms to either the militia or federal troops, although their leaders are sending word through the hills urging the men to disperse and return to their homes. According to John Lawson of the United Mine Workers they have not been told to give up their weapons.

Will Rebuild Tent Colonies.

"Men in all walks of life fought with the miners in this conflict," said Mr. Lawson, "but they will not oppose the federal troops. The tent colonies at Forbes and Ludlow will be rebuilt."

"The guns are the property of our men," added the union leader, "and so far as I know they will keep them."

The immediate withdrawal of the militia from the strike zone and the speedy disarmament of all mine guards are among the conditions demanded to end the conflict by union leaders.

"Without this there can be no peace," said Lawson.

Adjutant General Chase said that the state troops are being withdrawn as rapidly as the regulars are sent to replace them. The question of disarmament, he said, has been left to the United States officers.

Major W. W. Holbrook, in command of the Second squadron, Fifth United States cavalry, at Trinidad, declared:

"We are here to restore order. I have been assured of co-operation from the warring factions and I am confident of our ultimate success."

Major Holbrook admitted that negotiations had been opened in connection with the disarmament of the strikers. He declined, however, to reveal the exact nature of the negotiations or the success with which they had been attended.

Asked if the mine guards would be disarmed he said:

"The guards, of course, cannot be disarmed at present, with the property of the companies under their protection. The strikers, however, will be assured that the use of arms by the guards will be restricted. The guards must confine their activities strictly to protecting the property of their employers. They will not be permitted to molest the miners or their tent colonies."

Major Holbrook took care to explain that martial law had not been proclaimed; that the civil courts were exercising their functions.

In the forty-eight hour battles at Forbes and Walsenburg it was found that at least eleven persons had been killed, nine at Forbes and two at Walsenburg. The loss of the strikers is not known, but it is said that at least twenty were killed and more than that number wounded.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Grand
"Lucille Love" appears at the Grand tonight and tomorrow for the second series. The Universal Film Co. brought to the United States 300 South Sea Islanders in a special chartered ship from the island of Tootopoto in the Marquesas group of the Society Islands which is under the French domination. The film company is under $25,000 bond for the safe return of the natives to their island. The first picture in which the islanders will be used is "Lucille Love, the Girl of Mystery." The islanders are headed by Charley Oompah-Bal, chief, who is a grizzled veteran of many wars. He was converted to christianity by a missionary 40 years ago, but it is hard telling how much of it he really believes. These strange islanders brought with them several tons of spears, shields and war making accoutrements, material for building their thatched huts and all other articles necessary for making a complete South Sea village. These natives will live and dress the same as in their far mid-Pacific home. They will practice their uncanny dances and incantations which are a part of their tribal ritual. Many of these natives formerly practiced cannibalism.
In the two series of "Lucille Love" tonight and tomorrow you will see Lucille making a desperate drive in mid ocean from the hydroplane, and finally she succeeds in landing on the steamer. Read the story in our ad today.
The Grand knows this great serial run will please all its patrons and we will not raise our popular prices of 5 and 10 cents.

At the Empress
As usual the patrons of the Empress theatre were given a surprise in the 7th series of the "Adventures of Kathlyn." The same quality was found in their series as there had been in the others. There is not a dull moment to be found at the Empress. The balance of the program was well received by the large audience which attended the performance last evening. Don't forget that the first performance starts promptly at 7:20 p. m., so come early to avoid the rush.

At the Columbia
Tonight takes place the showing of the greatest battle in the history of this country, "The Battle of Gettysburg." It comes in 5 great reels. Perhaps never again will anyone have the opportunity of seeing this stupendous production which was made at an expense of over $100,000. As a military picture it stands alone. Tomorrow the Columbia has a great Western picture and the Mutual Weekly as headliners also a splendid comedy. Special matinee at 2:30.

Frederic B. Wieners, of Winnipeg, is in the city for the purpose of establishing a representative in Brainerd for Stewart & Walker, Limited, financial brokers at Winnipeg. Mr. Wieners says he has interviewed several of our leading business men and has met with kindly reception at their hands. Stewart & Walker, Limited, are an old established firm and have been identified with all the larger financial movements in Western Canada for a long time past. They propose to offer several first-class securities to investors in this section and ultimately plan to open a branch at Brainerd, making this a directing office for sections of Minnesota. Mr. Wieners is quite taken with the climate at Brainerd, and expects to have his family join him soon to spend a short while here. His stay here on business will probably extend for several weeks longer.

WASHINGTON BEDTIME.

Ought to Be 11:30, Says Daniels, but Marshall and Lane Dissent.

The question of official duties versus social life in Washington has bobbed up again and Secretary Daniels suggests a curfew law for congressmen and cabinet members.

"Washington ought to have an official curfew law," says Secretary Daniels. "Cabinet members and congressmen should be in bed by 11:30 or midnight at least."

"Dining out is a part of my official duties," said Vice President Marshall. "I had an engagement every evening from early January to the beginning of Lent. I accepted because I wanted to, not because I had to."

"I am supposed to accept the dinner invitations the president must decline and so help preserve the executive digestion. I do not believe my health has suffered because of dining out. I drink nothing and I eat sparingly. If I do not get home until midnight I do not get up until 9 the next morning."

"I get through work by 7 o'clock frequently," said Secretary Lane, "and enjoy going out to dinner, so I feel at liberty to go. I have not noticed that dinner engagements interfere with my work or my health."

EDUCATION DOUBLES THE PROFITS OF THE FARMER.

Federal Investigators Seek to Find Best Management Methods.

To determine where farmers are making money, how much they are making and by what methods, a broad study has been begun by the farm management experts of the department of agriculture, who have taken selected areas in the important agricultural sections and are making careful surveys.

The purpose of this study is to help the good producers to make money and to know how and where they are making it. The profits of the individual farmer are studied to determine the factors that control his income.

One interesting feature of the reports is the evidence that men with a high school education made almost double the profits of those without this training, and that farmers with a college education made an average income of 50 per cent more than those with high school records.

The reports of surveys in Indiana, Illinois and Iowa show startling results. On one-third of the 273 farms operated by owners it was found that the farmer was not even earning for himself the wages of a section hand after the moderate interest of 5 per cent had been allotted on the investment in real estate, farm equipment, stock and supplies. In other words, one man out of every three whose farms were studied would be better off financially if he sold his farm, invested his money at 5 per cent and went to work for some one else.

More than 18 per cent of the 273 farms were losing $200 to $500 a year for their owners, and 15 per cent lost from $200 down to $1 or managed to "break even." Slightly more than 50 per cent made between $1 and $1,500, and only 8 per cent made profits of $1,500 or more. These records were made in one of the best farming regions of the United States, with the averaging farm capital of each farm averaging more than $30,000. After deducting 5 per cent interest on the capital the 273 owners made an average profit of $408 on his investment, or less than 1.4 per cent.

The 247 tenant farmers whose operations were included in the survey fared better on net profits than farm owners. This is held to be ample proof that the man with small capital should rent rather than buy a farm.

LEAVE AFTER 30 YEARS SERVICE

Jerry M. Glunt, Popular Yardmaster of Northern Pacific Railway, at Brainerd

VETERAN IS RELIEVED TODAY

Had Years of Honorable Service in Railway Work—Served Country in the Civil War

On May 12, 1914, Jerry M. Glunt, Brainerd's popular yardmaster, would have served 30 years as yardmaster for the Northern Pacific railway. Mr. Glunt had always hoped to round out complete the 30 years, but yesterday he received a telegram notifying him that he had been relieved. He is succeeded by George E. Lowe, of this city.

Mr. Glunt has had a long and honorable career in serving his country and in working for railway companies. He was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1842. When the war of the Rebellion started Mr. Glunt enlisted in Knapp's battery, Independent Battery E., and served with distinction from June 7, 1862 until his discharge on June 14, 1865. He has been department commander at Staples several terms.

He ran his first yard at Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1867, working for the Pennsylvania Central. Then he took charge of the night yard at Columbus, Ohio, and here on December 11, 1873, he lost a thumb. From Columbus he went to Council Bluffs, Iowa, being yardmaster for the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway. He was later assigned to Minneapolis and had charge of night mill yards.

He entered the employ of the Northern Pacific railway on May 12, 1884 at Dickinson, N. D., as yardmaster and later took charge of the Mandan, N. D. yards on April 30, 1885. He came to Brainerd in April 1888 and was transferred to Staples in 1891. In October, 1903 he returned to Brainerd and has worked here continuously.

Mr. Glunt is married and his home circle has a wife and daughter. A son was called to his reward some years ago. The later was breaking on the west end.

Citizens of Brainerd and railway men in general appreciate the fine qualities of Jerry M. Glunt. Pleasant and agreeable, active and efficient, Mr. Glunt loved his work and accordingly gave the company the best that was in him.

Pumps. "Women," declared she, "have bigger intellects than men." "I won't dispute it," responded he. "A man can't wear footgear that has to be kept on by mental power alone."—Kansas City Journal.

COURT HOLDS LAW GOOD

Special to Dispatch:

St. Paul, Minn., May 1—The reapportionment law passed by the last legislature was declared constitutional by the state supreme court today. The constitutionality of the law was attacked by Thomas J. Meighen of Fillmore county, who filed for state senator under the old apportionment act.

UNREASONABLE INTERFERENCE

St. Paul, Minn., May 1—Characterizing the act as an unreasonable interference with and prohibition of interstate commerce, the state supreme court today held the Johnston cream shipment law passed by the last legislature as unconstitutional. The law prohibits the shipment of cream at greater distances than 65 miles unless it be Pasteurized or carried in refrigerator cars.

CITIZENS MAKE ARREST

Sneak Thief Robs White Store of $5 Minnow Net and is Arrested at St. Paul Train

A sneak thief said to hail from Barrows this morning entered the hardware store of White Brothers and robbed them of a $5 minnow net and other tackle. Artie White got on the man's trail and traced him to the St. Paul train. With the help of Harry Congdon they took the man to the steps of the city hall and there patiently waited for a policeman.

The man was finally turned over to Chief Quinn who landed him in the lockup.

Equally Cutting.

"Your voice," said the commanding officer, "is decidedly rasping." "Yes, sir," said the subordinate, touching his hat. "I have been out roughing it with a file of soldiers all morning."—Chicago Tribune.

REVIVAL MEETINGS AT TABERNACLE

As Reported by the Press Committee to Give Them Publicity

SYNOPSIS OF LOWRY'S SERMON

Rev. Lowry Preaches on the Theme "Amusements" to the Largest Crowd of the Campaign

The biggest crowd of the campaign thronged the tabernacle last night. Every bench was filled and for a time it looked as though there would not be room enough to seat the numbers that crowded the aisles. The ushers were the busiest men in town for three quarters of an hour. They did their work skillfully and by the time the sermon began had found a place for every man.

Two things were commented upon last evening. The people came early—strange to tell. The big building was half full before the chorus began to sing, and listened attentively to the splendid music. The second thing that attracted attention was the enthusiastic reception of the evangelist's words. He was frequently interrupted by applause and expressions of approval. One old fellow in front was evidently of the identical mind as the speaker for he was continuous in his ejaculations of encouragement.

People living many miles in the country drove in yesterday. It was a big day for them. They found the speaker at his very best both afternoon and evening. The Bible study of the afternoon "Where are the Dead Between Death and the Resurrection?" was full of interest and information. For lack of space a review of this valuable discussion cannot be given.

Thirty-one converts followed the simple method in vogue in the tabernacle and came "forward" and made their confession. There are many who object to this mode but let all remember that this has been the way established by generations of religious workers. It is the method employed by a general when he calls for volunteers for some especially valuable or hazardous enterprise. There can be no objection made by the well advised. The oldest convert was forty-five and the youngest was ten.

This evening the theme will be "The Stump-Digger." This is a sermon of plain and startling facts concerning "Booze" and its work. Rev. Lowry most cordially invited all to come. Men in particular are asked to come with fair and unbiased judgment, with no hostile "bent" and hear the subject discussed in connection with its religious and moral issue, and its ultimate end.

The ladies quartet will sing, Mr. Martin will sing, and the big chorus has a number of well drilled songs for the occasion.

Sunday afternoon there will be a men's mass meeting in the tabernacle. Mr. Lowry will speak on the "Devil's Boomerangs up to Date." Mrs. Moody will address a mass meeting of women at the Congregational church. Mr. Heber will speak to young men at the Norwegian Lutheran church at 6:15.

The text last evening was Galatians 6:7, 8: "Be not Deceived God is not mocked, for whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the spirit shall of the spirit reap life everlasting."

The evangelist said: This text is true not because it is in the Bible but it is in the Bible because it is true. Sow a certain kind of seed and in due time you will reap the same.

PACIFIC LINER IN GREAT DANGER

Special to Dispatch:

Tokio, May 1, 1914—Wireless calls for assistance from the Pacific mail steamer Siberia, heard on the Japanese coast today, indicated that she was in grave peril off the coast of Formosa. The liner left San Francisco April 7 for Manila. She carries 721 passengers and crew.

Tell that farmer that if he sows the card table in his home he will be acting as an agent for the Devil in filling the gambler's hell. "Oh, no," says he, "There is no harm in a social game of cards." Sow the dance and you may help fill the brothel. Many are bound today with chains of habit that they have forged for themselves or for their children by indulging in what they thought was an innocent pastime.

The Devil never made a gambler. He got some doting father or mother to teach his boy or girl the game of cards. The rest was easy for him. What the parents began he finished. Now the boy plays for money in any back room, the girl plays for prizes in the parlor. Both burn with the same lust for the game.

The Devil does not make harlots. He always works by the easiest route. He gets some silly, professing Christian mother to send their girls to the dancing teacher. "Dancing makes them so graceful," she says, and the Devil laughs. Grace and disgrace are closely linked in the dance.

I make no apology for plain talking I know some will be hardened but I am not responsible for that. I simply will tell you the truth.

Sow the theatres and reap corrupted morals. The history of the theater has always been the same it has always been ruinous to morals. In the past twenty-five years it has steadily grown worse. The average play was never so low as it is today.

The most crushing indictment is from actors and actresses. The most cruel consequences of the theater are seen in the lives of actors and actresses. Their lives are sullied. It cannot be otherwise with their surroundings, and such speech as they have to offer in playing their part. That some come from the stage with their purity does not disprove the rule. The theater as a school of morals has never learned its own lesson.

McCready, Booth, Garrick, Dumas, Lillian Russell, Mansfield all condemn the theater. Lillian Russell said "I would rather see my daughter dead than compelled to earn her living on the stage." The testimony of the others is just as startling.

Julia Morrison, leading woman, in the play "Mr. Plaster of Paris," killed the leading man because of his advances. The verdict rendered was in simple terms—the virtue of a good woman is worth more than the life of a dirty rascal. A converted actor said he would rather commit suicide than to go back to the stage.

The people demand corrupt plays for there are fires of hell burning in them that must have fuel to keep up the burning.

The picture shows are equally guilty. The testimony of judges, of juvenile officers, of Pinkerton, and others, who are authorities, is that boys and girls are stimulated to crime and sin by the movies. Crime is increasing two and a half times faster among children than adults. The juvenile court judges agree that the crime creative film is responsible.

Men and women are pictured making exhibitions of their shame to make the groundlings laugh. Realistic pictured crime causes crime.

Sow the card table and you reap the gambler's hell. It is the kindergarten of hell—this nice little social game in your parlor. The first thing a boy sees when he enters a gambling joint is a deck of cards. Just the same kind that he sees upon your center table. In 1893 the Civic Federation of Chicago interviewed 3000 gamblers and found that all of them with few exceptions learned the game at home. In a large convention of gamblers the chairman said "Gentlemen, whatever you do be sure to encourage card playing in the homes."

The gambling den is not half so dangerous as the social game of cards. In the back room of a saloon on an old table is a deck of cards, a bottle of liquor, and a little pile of coin. Four degenerate looking fellows surround the table and play for the coin and "pull" at the bottle. In another place is a beautiful home the card tables are carved oak. The deck is of silk. The people are well dressed, most of them are church members. On the center table is a cut glass dish. It is the prize for these high toned gamblers. Before God, the last scene is more devilish in the sight of God than the first.

They are worse than gamblers, they are the incubators of gamblers. In the second place they matriculate, in the last place they graduate.

DeWitt Tallmage said "The cards are so associated with vice that I would as soon ask my children to play a game of rattle snakes as a game of cards."

You say I let my children play at home so they will not play elsewhere. I would as lief send my boy to the saloon to learn temperance and my girl to the brothel to learn purity as

If you had invested $500.00 in Capital Common Stock of The Amalgamated Land & Mortgage Companies of Winnipeg, Limited, in the Spring of 1912, your stock would have earned $125 in dividends, or 25 per cent on the principal so invested. In addition to the annual dividends, the value of the stock has increased, making a further profit of from $75 to $80, were you to turn your stock into cash today, which would give you a total return of from 40% to 41% on your money in two years. Added to this, you would have had a guarantee that a certain dividend would be paid annually, one that you would consider a goodly return upon the money invested.
